

European Association of Science Editors

Science Editors' Handbook 2nd edition

European
Association of Science
Editors

www.ease.org.uk

Editors

Pippa Smart

Hervé Maisonneuve

Arjan Polderman

An invaluable resource for anyone working in science editing. Featuring 56 chapters written by 40 international authors with experience in all areas of science editing and publishing, it covers a wide range of subjects, including all aspects of copy editing, running a journal, and many useful articles on publishing in this digital era.

Section 1 Editing

Section 2 Nomenclature and terminology

Section 3 Policies and processes

Section 4 Peer review

Section 5 Ethics

Section 6 Publishing and promoting

Order via www.ease.org.uk/webshop - £24.99

Contents

Section 1: Editing

- 1.1: Copy-editing scientific papers, Maeve O'Connor, Margaret Cooter, Sylwia B. Ufnalska
- 1.2: Editing texts by non-native speakers of English
Joy Burrough-Boenisch
- 1.3: Increasing your editing efficiency by using macros
Paul Beverley
- 1.4: Using units and quantities correctly,
Arjan K.S. Polderman
- 1.5: Numerals, John W. Glen, Arie A. Manten
- 1.6: Layout and principles of lists, A.J. (Tom) van Loon
- 1.7: Symbols for physical quantities, Göran I. Ågren
- 1.8: References, Elisabeth Heseltine
- 1.9: Editing and design of tables, Yateendra Joshi
- 1.10: Editing graphs, Naomi B. Robbins
- 1.11: Last but not least – the index, Ann Kingdom
- 1.12: Career and personal development for editors,
Pippa Smart, Tim Albert

Section 2: Nomenclature and terminology

- 2.1: Nomenclature and typography in chemistry and pharmacy, Arjan K.S. Polderman
- 2.2: Anatomical nomenclature, Jenny Gretton
- 2.3: Bacteriological nomenclature, Mercè Piqueras, Ricardo Guerrero
- 2.4: Virus nomenclature, Jens H. Kuhn
- 2.5: Best practice in the use of the scientific names of animals
David G. Notton, Ellinor Michel, Natalie Dale-Skey, Svetlana Nikolaeva, Steven Tracey
- 2.6: Scientific names of algae, fungi, and plants
David L. Hawksworth
- 2.7: Mineralogical nomenclature, Andrew M. Clark
- 2.8: Nomenclature of igneous rocks, A.J. (Tom) van Loon
- 2.9: Nomenclature of sedimentary rocks, A.J. (Tom) van Loon
- 2.10: Nomenclature of metamorphic rocks, A.J. (Tom) van Loon
- 2.11: Stratigraphic nomenclature, A.J. (Tom) van Loon

Section 3: Policies and processes

- 3.1: Facing the void: editorial policies, Elise Langdon-Neuner
- 3.2: Today's hot topics in editorial policy
Elise Langdon-Neuner
- 3.3: Establishing a new journal, Matko Marušić, Ana Marušić, Ruth King
- 3.4: Editorial boards, Irene Hames
- 3.5: Organizing the editorial board and office, Matko Marušić, Ana Marušić
- 3.6: Scientific authorship, Ana Marušić, Matko Marušić
- 3.7: Instructions to authors, Elisabeth Heseltine
- 3.8: Editorial processing of manuscripts and proofs
Pamela Lepkowski, Mark E. Schweitzer
- 3.9: Book reviews, James Hartley

Section 4: Peer review

- 4.1: Peer review at the beginning of the 21st century
Irene Hames
- 4.2: Working with peer reviewers, Nikki Lazenby, Ashlie Carlson
- 4.3: Peer review reports as a tool for improving a journal
Michael Willis, Elizabeth Blalock
- 4.4: Peer review systems, Elizabeth Wager
- 4.5: The changing face of peer review, Irene Hames

Section 5: Ethics

- 5.1: Dealing with fraud, Elizabeth Wager
- 5.2: Images in figures: quality control and managing illegitimate image manipulation, David L. Vaux
- 5.3: Conflicts of interest in biomedical publications
Hervé Maisonneuve, Marc A. Rodwin
- 5.4: Editors and commercial companies, Elizabeth Wager
- 5.5: Plagiarism, Karen Shashok
- 5.6: Reporting guidelines: a tool to increase completeness, transparency, and value of health research published in your journal, Iveta Simera
- 5.7: Basic statistical reporting for articles published in clinical medical journals: the Statistical Analyses and Methods in the Published Literature, or SAMPL guidelines
Thomas A. Lang, Douglas G. Altman

Section 6: Publishing and promoting

- 6.1: Requirements and preferences for the first page of journal articles, A.J. (Tom) van Loon
- 6.2: Requirements and preferences for individual issues and entire volumes of printed journals, A.J. (Tom) van Loon
- 6.3: Design: print and web, Manuella Walker
- 6.4: Grey literature: challenges and responsibilities for authors and editors, Paola De Castro, Sandra Salinetti
- 6.5: CrossRef DOIs and reference linking, Patricia Feeney
- 6.6: Open access journals – it's not all about free, Pippa Smart
- 6.7: Legal issues: copyright, plagiarism, and other concerns
Pippa Smart
- 6.8: Multidisciplinary bibliographic databases
Armen Yuri Gasparyan, Lilit Ayyvazyan, George D. Kitas
- 6.9: Bibliometrics for journal editors – an overview
Jenny Neophytou
- 6.10: Promotion of journals, especially small scholarly journals
Ana Marušić, Matko Marušić
- 6.11: Maximizing research visibility, impact, and citation: tips for editors and authors, Emma R. Norman
- 6.12: Using social and traditional media to promote awareness of your publications, Sharon Mathelus, Jennifer Beal

European
Association of Science
Editors

Published by EASE (European Association of Science Editors), UK

Order your copy from www.ease.org.uk/webshop

ISBN 978-0-905988-11-5

£24.99

